Our Senses

Name: _____ Date: _____

Learn

We learn about our surroundings through our senses. Eyes help us see colours and shapes. Ears help us hear sounds. The nose helps us smell, and the tongue helps us taste. Skin helps us feel touch, pressure and temperature. More than one sense often works together. Never taste unknown things or touch something that may be hot or sharp.

Worked example

You see that an orange is round, feel its bumpy peel and smell it after an adult opens it.

1. Which body part helps you hear a bell?

2. Which sense notices a flower's smell?

3. Name two senses used while eating a familiar apple.

Use different senses to notice different things eyes: see ears: hear nose: smell tongue: taste skin: feel

People may use senses differently; offer accessible ways to explore.
