Adult guidance

Choose by readiness

Start with broad shapes and short tasks. Read instructions aloud. Offer a comfortable tool and let the child point or explain if writing is tiring. Detailed pictures and dense dot sequences require more control.

Colour keys and dot sequences

Use the key printed on that page. Colour keys vary between activities. A colour print is needed for colour-dependent tasks. For dot sequences, follow the printed numbers and check the counting step before starting.

Copying and completing

Compare grid position, broad shapes and proportions. For a half-picture, discuss which parts correspond. Accept a recognisable attempt; these tasks do not have one required level of neatness.
